ARREST CATTLEMEN ON CHARGE OF INTIMIDATION

Deputy United States Marshal Galusha Serves Warrants on Prominent Pecos Valley Men Under New Indictments.

Deputy United States Marshal J. Galusha returned Saturday night from Roswell, where he served warrants on four prominent Pecos valley cattlemen indicted by the recent federal grand jury in Santa Fe on charges of intimidating homesteaders in the neighborhood of their ranches on the plains northeast of Roswell. The men arrested are Samuel L. Marden, son Cleveland Marden, Charles J. Crosby and William Crosby, all prominent in the live stock business of the valley. All were released on bond of $750 each. They will be tried at the next term of the federal court at Roswell. It is alleged that these men have destroyed fences, run off stock and in other ways sought to make impossible for the settlers to maintain their farms on the plains country.
